LOSS OF VOICE
After Acute Bronchitis
CURED BY USING
AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

THE PASEO.

The wavering heat is broken by long rows
Of slim acacias, palms and alamos.
In brave attire there walk, between,
Jose, Andres and Agustin.

Andres, Jose and Agustin
Stroll down the alameda slow
'Neath spreading boughs with plats between
Where rose and belled granada grow.
Tall gray sombreros, silver trimmed,
Bedecked with spangles, ample brimmed,
Shade from bright rays by clouds undimmed
The eyes of all.

They loiter on with airy grace,
A turn of head this way and that,
While sparkling smiles light up the face
Accenting gay, theatric chat.
Their jaunty jackets reach the waist,
With rows of buttons closely placed,
And braided trousers, tightly laced,
Costumes complete.

A greater charm is found by far
Than shade, bright flowers and tropic weather
In Juana, Inez and Leonor,
All pretty maids who drive together,
Clear olive faces, lips of red—
But back of them the warrier's head,
The duena, accredited
For watchful eyes.

The wavering heat is broken by long rows
Of slim acacias, palms and alamos.
In brave attire there walk between,
Jose, Andres and Agustin.

THE CIRCUS RING.

It Is Always Exactly Forty-two Feet Nine Inches In Diameter.

In various ways the circus of the present day differs from that of the past, but the ring remains unchanged. It is always 42 feet 9 inches in diameter. Go where you will, search the world from China to Peru, with diverging trips to the frosty Caucasus and the desert of Sahara, and never a circus will you find without a ring 42 feet 9 inches in diameter.

There is a reason for this remarkable uniformity. Circus riders and circus horses are nomadic. Wherever their wanderings bring them they must find the ring always the same, else they will be disturbed in their performance, if not really rendered incapable. Trained to the 42 feet 9 inch ring, the horse and his rider have grown used—worn, one might say—to the exact angle of declivity toward the center of the ring which the radius of 21 feet and a given speed produce.

The mound on the circumference of the ring always has on the inside a level, so to speak, of earth, at the same angle as that into which radius and speed throw the driver. As for speed, that, after the horse has gone round two or three times and is warmed to his work, is the same through the act. In fact, a strap generally holds his head so that he cannot get beyond a certain pace.

The ringmaster snaps his whip, the clown shouts, the band plays louder and louder, but the horse knows just how much this empty show means and jogs on at the same old pace until, with the last jump through a tissue balloon, the act is ended.—Exchange.

The Roman Legionary.

The Roman legionary is a personage of remarkable interest. He is indeed the first soldier whom we seem to recognize as such—a disciplined man of the highest training, with pride in himself, confidence in his leaders and considerable esprit de corps; in fact, a warrior whom the modern soldier can take to his heart. There were legions and legions, of course, as in modern armies there are regiments and regiments. Some indeed, like the famous Tenth, enjoyed even a nickname, "The Larks" (Alauda). The men, if we are to believe Vegetius, suffering from the same weaknesses, could be raised by the same means to the same excellence as the veterans of the peninsula war. As to the lighter moods of the Roman legionary, are they not immortalized in the name of a Roman emperor?

Tacitus tell us how Germanicus, always a popular general, having had a son born to him in the camp, dressed the lad like a little soldier, complete even to his boots (caliga), in the hope of pleasing his men. The men of course made a pet of him and called him Caligula, or Little Boots, and it is by his camp nickname of Little Boots that Claudius, son of Germanicus, lives in history to this day. It is a curious example of the persistence in the nature of fighting men. Cochrane's rough Chilean sailors dressed up his 5-year-old son as a tiny midshipman and made a pet of him in the same way.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Roses In a Tomb Five Thousand Years Old.

Flinders Petrie, the archæologist, while excavating among some ancient Egyptian tombs, found a wreath of roses which had been bound into a garland and buried with the dead thousands of years ago. M. Crepin, the botanist and microscopist, made a careful examination of this queer find and prepared a paper on it, which he read before the Royal society of Belgium. From this paper it appears that in places where the flowers were matted together they still retained their color as well as a very faint odor. The species to which they belong is now extinct, but a rose resembling them in several particulars is still grown in Egypt and Abyssinia. —St. Louis Republic.

Have You a Shoe Tree?

The fashionable woman who does not own a shoe tree in these days is far behind the times. These "trees" are rather expensive. They must be carefully made from the last of the shoes they are to hold. They cost $5 a pair, and one must have one less pair than she has slippers and shoes. With ordinary usage they are indestructible. They keep the footgear in excellent shape and condition for the longest possible term of usefulness.

I have also seen the world, and after long experience have discovered that ennui is our greatest enemy and remunerative labor our most lasting friend. —Justus Moser.

Physic, for the most part, is nothing else but the substitute of exercise for temperance.—Addison.

RED TAPE IN SENEGAL.

How a Traveler May Get a Bath In That Country.

A young French explorer, M. Gaston Donnet, contributes to Le Revue Bleue some vivid descriptions of the French colony of Senegal. The following happened at St. Louis, the capital, a dull, unprogressive French colonial town, eaten up with red tape and officialism. M. Donnet tells us that he and a fellow traveler wanted to take a bath. There is no establishment in the capital of Senegal. Rumor had it that it was possible to hire baths at the hospital. We asked, he says, one of the servants there for a bath.

"Certainly. Take seats. Your names, surnames and birthplace?"

"But we only want a bath."

"Exactly. What is your name, and where and when were you born, and are you government servants, soldiers or officers? No. Well, the rules do not provide for this. Wait a minute. I will read them over again. Yes, here is your case. You first make out on stamped paper an application to the governor of the colony. After favorable notice from the governor you send another application to the chief colonial doctor, who will send for you and will examine you."

"But we are not ill."

"It is the rule. Having examined you, the doctor will give you two noncommissioned officers' bath tickets, to be delivered to the assistant doctor."

"Why noncommissioned officers' bath?"

"Mon Dieu! In our accounts we recognize only two categories of persons, officers and civil servants, the latter taking rank with officers. You are not official at all. If officers were to find you in their baths, they would probably make a row."

"How long will all these formalities take?"

"Oh, nothing at all—two or three days, provided that your application is approved at government house."

A MILLIONAIRE'S AMUSEMENT.

The Now Wealthy Ex-Junkman Spends His Time In Whittling.

A millionaire must be allowed to have some amusements, and if he is disposed to amuse himself in ways that would not be at all amusing to the big public made of men who are not millionaires he must certainly be accorded the privilege.

One of Chicago's greatest stockmen and packers was once a dealer in junk, and it is said that he once went about gathering old iron himself. Now he is reputed to be worth $25,000,000, and rumor says that he has his property in such shape that he could, if he chose, raise a larger sum in cash than any other man in Chicago.

Each morning the millionaire's man comes into his office with a bundle of clean pine sticks, which he places in a corner not far from the millionaire's desk. When the millionaire has read his morning mail, and business men come in to see him, he takes one of the sticks, and with a big, old fashioned jackknife whittles it into bits, the shavings falling on the floor. Sometimes he walks up and down—he walks much—and whittles. By the time business is done for the day his office looks like a carpenter shop and the bundle of pine sticks has vanished. The harder the business problems he has to meet the harder he whittles. And that is the way he amuses himself.—Chicago Record.

The Making of Tubing.

One of the most important parts of the bicycle, because it is the most in evidence, is the tubing. The manufacture of tubing is now carried on to a large extent in this country, although it is but recently that the home production has reached a stage of perfection where it could successfully compete with that of the English concerns.

There are a number of methods of making tubing, but the one mostly in vogue at present is what is termed the cold drawn process, and it is of this style of tubing that all the high grade machines are at present being made. The machinery required is ponderous, and the power required to draw out a piece of steel without heating it is another exhibition of the perfection of modern machinery.

There are a number of variations to the method employed, one of which consists in taking a piece of steel in the shape of a bar or ingot. This is bored through the center. It is then passed through a die, after which it is heated and treated to a bath in a secret preparation which removes the temper that the drawing process imparts. This is repeated a number of times, and each die used is smaller than its predecessor, with the result that the tube grows smaller and longer. This is continued till the tube is the right diameter and gauge.—Chicago Tribune.

To Prevent Chapping.

As cold weather approaches women try to devise means for preventing hands and lips from chapping. An excellent remedy to prevent chapping is cold cream. The manicurist told me that it also whitens the skin more than any preparation. It has taken the place of the old time remedy—mutton suet. It should be well rubbed into the skin, and gloves—preferably white—slipped on. The palms of the gloves should be slit in several places to allow the air and prevent cramp of the muscle, and the finger tips clipped off.

Vaseline should never touch the hands. It turns the skin yellow and leaves a stain on the nails that is hard to clear away.—New York World.

Removes the Odors.

A paste of ground mustard and water is a first rate agent for removing traces of disagreeable smelling substances from the hands, such as salts of valerianic acid, cod liver oil, etc. Huver claims that any oily seeds when powdered will answer this purpose. The smell of carbolic acid may be removed by rubbing with dampened flaxseed meal.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Before another issue of this paper Christmas will have come and gone. We therefore wish our readers, one and all, long live and prosperty and a Merry Christmas.

THE AMERICAN EAGLE AND THE BRITISH LION.

On Tuesday last President Cleveland in a message to Congress upholds the Monroe doctrine and says the British must not seize Venezuelen territory. The message, which smells of gunpowder and bristles with bayonets, will no doubt be a surprise to the American people, who had come to look upon Grover Cleveland as weak and vacillating in his foreign policy. However, his message of last Tuesday will no doubt redeem him in the eyes of the sixty or seventy million of people for whom he speaks. The message is practically a declaration of war and England must now keep her hands off Venezuela or fight. The fact that she has twice been threshed by American armies will no doubt cause her to go slow in this matter, seeing that her usual bluffing business has failed. If she does not the British lion is apt to have his tail badly twisted. It behooves every American, it matters not whether he be Democrat or Republican, to uphold our President in the stand he has taken against the arrogance of Great Britain as expressed through Lord Salisbury.

MOSE GUNST WINS.

About a year ago the San Francisco dailies came out with big black headlines announcing that "Mose Gunst is Out." It transpired, however, that Gunst was very much in, as the other Police Commissioners, Messrs. Tobin and Alvord, refused to recognize Menzies, who was subsequently appointed by Governor Budd, and Gunst entered upon the duties of the office. Menzies then appealed to the courts, with the result that the highest judicial tribunal in the State, on Monday last, decided that Gunst is entitled to his seat and that a Police Commissioner holds office for the term of his natural life. Notwithstanding a big howl went up when Gunst was first appointed and he was proclaimed a gambler, a blackleg and heaven only knows what else, he has done more the past year to effect much-needed reforms on the police force of the metropolis than any other man who ever held the office.

Governor Budd, accompanied by several of his friends in Stockton, will leave that city on a duck hunting expedition the latter part of next week. The party will hunt on the Sacramento river and will be absent a week. Grover Cleveland, Jim Budd, the Index-Tribune editor and all other great men go duck hunting these days. For some reason or another the newspapers never mention the movements of the latter. However, in future we will toot our own hunting horn.

Notwithstanding his name is Dennis he has got there. The Supreme Court has confirmed the appointment of Dennis Spencer of Napa as Attorney for the State Board of Health. The decision ousts Geo. H. Knight, who has held the office for several years and who has had little else to do than draw his salary. The office ought to be abolished. The Attorney General should attend to the legal business of the Board.

The failure of Hans Kohler, son of the late Chas. Kohler, ought to act as an object lesson to the sons of rich parents who are inclined to be "high rollers." Inheriting nearly a quarter of a million dollars less than five years ago he is now in debt to the amount of $378,827 and his only assets are one suit of clothes.

A dispatch from Indianapolis says it is definitely stated by Republican leaders there that ex-President Harrison's name will not be presented to the St. Louis convention by the Indiana delegation. It will, however, be presented by some other State, and the Republican leaders think there will be no doubt of his nomination. Under these circumstances Harrison will accept.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

COUNTY NEWS.

GLEANED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

Wm. Brandon, a pioneer settler of Petaluma, is dead.

Mrs. Catherine Tann died in Petaluma last Tuesday at the ripe old age of 85 years.

A pet rabbit belonging to P. Hansen of Petaluma gave birth to seventeen little rabbits the other day.

Representive Barham on Tuesday introduced in the Senate his bill providing for the appropriation of $75,000 for a postoffice at Santa Rosa.

William Blackman died last week in Healdsburg at the age of 100 years, 3 months and 14 days. He was the oldest white resident of this county.

There are sixty-five applicants for teacher's certificates taking the examinations before the County Board of Education at their semi-annual examination, which is being held in Santa Rosa this week.

The case of the People vs. E. F. Woodward, County Treasurer, involving the question of producing the funds on special deposit so that the examiners can count them, has been continued until January 13th, by agreement of the attorneys in the case.

Vallejo Township is overrun with thieves, who raid the ranches at night and purloin everything they can lay hands on if we except red hot stoves and threshing machines. The thieves have a penchant for farming implements, harness, eggs and poultry.

Twelve local wine growers have formally transferred 598,000 gallons of dry, red and white wine to the California Wine-makers' Corporation, says the Santa Rosa Democrat. This wine will remain in the cellars until sold by the Corporation, in accordance with their usual plan. The producers will have to wait for this sale before netting any returns.

Mrs. Joslin, wife of a Petaluma photographer, on Tuesday afternoon last, swallowed a solution of several poisonous compounds, used in the photographing business. Her husband had shortly before purchased some cider, and his wife mistook the deadly mixture for "a little more cider, too," and came near "shuffling off this mortal coil." A physician, powerful emetics and a stomach that must have been as as tough as a crocodile's saved her life.

Petaluma has had another sensation. On Wednesday night of last week Winn Gossage and W. H. Maynard left that city in a buggy for the Fair ranch. Next morning Gossage was found in a barn on the Dowd ranch with a bullet hole in his shouldor and the horse and buggy were subsequently found in a lane near by. Maynard returned to Petaluma on "shank's mare. Gossage says he was shot as he was getting out of the buggy to open a gate by some one unknown to him. Maynard also declares he does not know who fired the shot. It is evidently a case of too much booze. Gossage is badly wounded.

The Supreme Court has sustained the decision of Judge Dougherty in the case of Aaron Barnes vs. Jessie Burke Barnes. Barnes married the plaintiff, and in consideration of her becoming his wife, Barnes gave her $14,300 in property, mostly in bank stock. Mrs. Barnes left him and he brought suit to recover his property and damages on the ground that the defendant was not a worthy woman when he married her, but represented herself as such to defraud him out of his property. Judge Dougherty decided the case in favor of Mrs. Barnes, holding that in marrying Barnes she had performed her part of the contract, and the Supreme Court sustained the decision.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria "Times," Cal., in speaking of the various ailments for children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieves the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by all dealers.

Hood's Is Wonderful

"At harvesting time I took a severe cold which settled in my limbs, and in a short time developed into Inflammatory Rheumatism. After spending a good sum of money for different remedies and suffering all winter, I became so crippled that I had to walk with the aid of crutches. By the kind advice of a friend I was prevailed upon to buy six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. REMINGTON.

Glen Ellen, Dec. 19th, 1895.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT!"

Sonoma Has Been in Darkness Long Enough.

Every once in a while the question of erecting an electric light plant in this town bobbs to the surface. It is generally admitted that Sonoma is way behind other towns of her size and importance in the matter of light. The stores and dwellings are illuminated with coal oil and tallow candles, if we except the residence of Julius Fochetti, which is furnished with gas generated by a gasoline machine. The light from this gas, when a "whaleback" burner is used, is wonderfully brilliant and is almost the equal of an electric light and is far superior to coal gas. The truth of this statement can easily be ascertained by a visit to Mr. Fochetti's residence of an evening. His gas machine has a capacity of five burners and costs only $45. To this must be added the expense of gas pipes and fixtures, which brings the cost up to about $75. Once the machine is set up there is no further expense except for gasoline which will generate the gas for less than it costs to burn coal oil. The capacity of these machines vary between five and five hundred burners, the latter costing between $800 and $850. J. J. O'Brien's large dry goods house in San Francisco is lighted by 200 of these burners and they give a better light at less cost than can be supplied by either the gas or electric light companies of that city.

As this town is way behind the times in the matter of light we would suggest that the City Trustees inquire into the practicability of owning and controlling its own lighting system. It would no doubt prove a source of revenue to the city and in addition give its people a better, safer and more economical light than that afforded by coal oil and candles.

If an electric light plant is too expensive why not adopt a system of light generated by one of these gas machines? The investment would pay for itself in a few years.

FEEBLE MINDED HOME.

The Governor Well Pleased With Its Management.

Governor Budd after an official visit of two days, returned to San Francisco Thursday morning. During his stay he made a complete investigation of the Home's affairs with the result that he was more than pleased with its management. He also approved of the plans to erect two cottages and an electric light plant to do away with the poor gas system that is now in use. There is likely to be no changes in the management or employees.

The Nordin Suit.

The civil suit of Nordin vs. Nordin, in which the Agua Caliente Springs property is the bone of contention, is assuming a very peculiar legal phase. Judge Dougherty on last Monday overruled the demurrer of defendent. It appears that Dr. Nordin's name when he came to the United States was Nelsen. He applied to the court to have it changed to that of Nordin, which was subsequently done. An interesting point was here raised, whether changing his name changed that of his wife, who was at that time in Switzerland, not named in the petition and was out of jurisdiction of the court. Judge Dougherty in overruling the demurrer virtually held that it did not, Nordin, after his name had been changed, sued for a divorce and gave his wife's name as Nordin. Now her name not having been changed from that of Nelson, he was virtually suing for a divorce from a person that did not exist. Hence, it is alleged by Mrs. Nordin's attorneys, his divorce was no divorce, and his second marriage was no marriage.

This we hold is not a sound principle of law. Man and wife are considered one, and when Dr. Nordin had his name lawfully changed it seems to stand to reason his wife and their children, if they had any, were compelled to take the changed name of the husband and father. In other words, when the court changed the husband's name it surely changed the wife's. How could it be otherwise? The law gives every married woman a name and when it changes the name of the husband it likewise changes the wife's.

Glen Ellen Without a Shoemaker

Glen Ellen is sad! She is without a son of St. Crispan! The people up that way are run down at the heels and out at the toes, and if relief does not come to them very soon they won't have any shoes at all. In another column will be found an advertisement for a sober and industrious cobbler to run a shop in that town. To such a man a good paying business is guaranteed. A shop with four living rooms attached can be rented very reasonable. This is a fine opening for the right man.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

Fine Local Display of Christmas and New Year's Presents.

The stores of Sonoma this year are up to date in so far as their display of holiday goods is concerned, and there is no excuse for Sonoma Valley people rushing off to San Francisco to make their purchases as everything in the way of Christmas and New Year's presents can be secured right here at home for the same price, if not less, than in the metropolis. To our readers we would say, "Keep your money at home and you will feel better for it during this season of rejoicing."

F. Duhring has a fine display of holiday novelties, silver ware, glassware, dressing cases, rocking chairs, toys, etc., which range in price from five cents to five dollars.

Ed. Wegner has in his show cases and on his counters perfumes, stationery, albums, jewelery, toys and almost everything in the holiday line.

G. H. Hotz makes the most attractive display of holiday goods for the ladies ever brought to Sonoma. His ladies' dress goods, millinery and fancy articles will compare in prices and quality favorably with those of the city.

F. Clewe is offering, in addition to a new and varied assortment of Christmas presents, the New Home or an Ideal sewing machine at less than they can be bought in San Francisco. One of these machines would make a very appropriate and useful present to your wife, sister or mother.

Mrs. J. A. Poppe has a fine display of fancy articles and toys in her large store, which the children will be delighted to see. For older folks she has many useful, ornamental and appropriate presents.

S. Schocken, as usual, has laid in a fresh line of goods for the holiday trade, which he has marked down to the very lowest notch. He has presents galore for your sister, your cousins and your aunts.

DeGraza & Co., have a nice lot of gentlemens' furnishing goods which he will dispose of during the holidays at prices next to nothing.

Frank Weems, the young Broadway merchant, has just received a fresh supply of groceries especially for the holiday trade, which he is disposing of at astonishingly low prices.

Jas. Ruffner has just received new attractions in the holiday line which he is offering at San Francisco prices. If you don't believe it call on him and see for yourself.

The Union Hotel and Sonoma House will serve their patrons with fine Christmas dinners.

Campanella & Oliveri, our Italian merchants, have just received a fresh consignment of imported olives, olive oil, Swiss cheese, sausages and other toothsome articles for the holiday trade.

To our readers of Vallejo Township and others who do their shopping in Petaluma we wish to call attention to Hale Bros. & Co. of Petaluma. The gentlemanly manager, Mr. Luff, is surprising everybody this season by his extraordinary fine display of holiday goods. As usual his prices are less and his stock larger than any similar store in Petaluma.

Our meat markets, knowing that the inner man must be provided for in order to make everybody cheerful during the holidays, are on deck.

Henry Weyl has a number of fine beeves ready for Christmas and his turkeys for plumpness cannot be beat.

Henry Hartin has newly painted and otherwise put his market in holiday shape. His display of Christmas meats this year will surpass all his previous efforts.

Cornelius & Pedroia are also fixing their shop up for the holidays and will supply their customers with some fine beef, pork, mutton and lamb during Christmas week.

This article is the INDEX-TRIBUNE's Christmas offering to our enterprising merchants and business men.

Improvements on the Senator Jones Ranch.

The Jones ranch comprising three or four thousand acres of land, is being crossed-fenced and will be converted into a stock, dairy and grain farm. A large portion of the farm has been seeded to hay and barley, which has already commenced to sprout. The place has also been stocked with cattle and hogs, which thrive wonderfully on the reclaimed land. This farm, which was a desolate waste of overflowed tule land a few years ago, is now one of the model stock and grain farms of Sonoma county. Wm. Hamilton is the manager of the farm and H. C. Masterson the foreman. At present about twenty hands are employed on the place. In the summer and fall as high as forty and fifty men are kept busy at fair wages.

The type-setting machines have displaced over 500 printers in San Francisco, and the "prints" in order to live, have concluded to start an evening paper.

Incidentally Mr. Wildman has something to say of the vast resources and fertility of Sonoma county. The City of Santa Rosa also comes in for its share of praise. The Overland being the only magazine on this coast, it is to be hoped that our people will give it the generous support that it deserves. Caithness Folklore.

Caithness (Gaelic "Goliabh") Catteynes, the Land of the Stranger, and Sudderland, the South Land, are steeped in strange superstitions, some traceable to Norse, others to Celtic influence. The lone, wind swept home of the clan of the Catts, with its miles of moorland and peatfields, its bold, rocky coast, this county, with Sutherland, and the groups of islands to the north are in a peculiar sense the home of folklore, legend, myth and peasant wisdom. To this day the older members of the fishing community take off their bonnets as they row past the head of Whailagoe, and thus express, in their simple way, the deep reverence which they feel for the "great mither" on whose breast they are tossed.

The lassies of Freswick dress their hair before sunrise on pain of causing their sweethearts to be lashed with these silken tresses by the evil kelpies of the pool. The farmer of today lights the bonfire at midnight on New Year's eve and passes his key through the flames to secure them from disease, while the herdboys jump over the flaming peats for good luck. Changeling children are regarded with the same awe as of old, and witches, elfins and sprites can, it is said, be discerned around the Maiden Paps weaving the threads of fate.—Scottish Review.

A Tough Niagara Hackman.

Here is a somewhat new story of the Niagara falls hackman:

Two tourists, a lady and a gentleman, stopped off at the falls between trains. A hackman engaged them for a brief tour of sightseeing. The time actually consumed was 55 minutes. The hackman said he must have $10. The gentleman remarked that it was an outrage. The driver explained that he had been of great assistance in pointing out the places of interest and stood firm. The gentleman prepared to pay under protest.

Unfortunately for himself he handed the man a $20 bill.

"Do you pay for the lady also?" asked the hackman promptly.

"Do I pay for the lady?" repeated the fare in astonishment. "Of course I do. What do you mean?"

"Then there will be no change," replied the hackman. "My charge of $10 is for one person; $20 for two persons. The amount you have handed me is exactly correct. Thank you, sir."—Buffalo Express.

Salt Makes Sugar Sweeter.

Who would think of making sugar sweeter by the addition of salt? Such, however, is asserted to be the case by Professor Zuntz at a meeting of the Physiological society of Berlin.

From his experiments he finds that if to a solution of sugar there be added a slight amount of salt and water so weak that it excites no saline taste, the result is extra sweetening of the sugared water. The weakest of quinine solution is said to produce a practically similar result.

The explanation given of the above seeming incongruity is that the ever so feeble saltness or bitterness imparts an increased sensibility to the sensation of taste by the simultaneous stimuli and hence an appreciation of additional sweetness.

Wales and Workingmen.

The Prince of Wales is remarkable for the tact of his bearing toward workingmen. He invited Mr. Henry Broadhurst to visit him at Sandringham. Mr. Broadhurst declined on the ground that he had no dress suit. Of course a dress suit could have been bought, but the fact of his possessing it would have injured him with workingmen. The prince renewed the invitation, and Mr. Broadhurst said he would accept if he were allowed to have a bit of dinner in his own room. This was courteously conceded, and Mr. Broadhurst went. He was shown to his room by the prince. Noticing that the fire was not lighted, the prince took matches, went on his knees and kindled it himself.—London Correspondent.

Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.

A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Cal. had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have been laid up for two or three weeks, but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Balm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back. For sale by all dealers.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

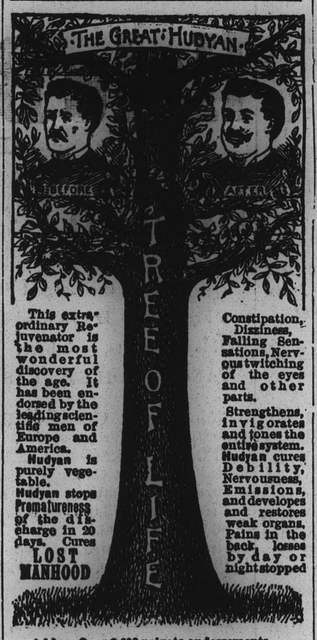

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

"My Eye."

The chief of the anthropometric station at St. Petersburg has made a truly startling discovery. According to that gentleman, the order of criminals may be determined by the color of their eyes. Thus, "thieves and murderers always have chestnut colored eyes; those who abuse confidence in various ways have cinnamon colored orbs, and vagabonds have sky blue eyes." Black and dark blue eyes are, on the other hand, the color of the eyes of honest people, and, adds M. Kerloff, the twentieth century will base its theories of crime on this incontestably sure sign. Which shows that M. Kerloff has no need for uttering the petition, "Give us a good conceit of ourselves."—Philadelphia Record.

Presenting Arms to a Cat.

Some 50 years ago a very high English official died in an Indian fortress at a place that is one of the centers of Brahminic orthodoxy, and at the moment when the news of his death met the sepoy guard at the main gate, a black cat rushed out of it.

The guard presented arms to the cat as a salute to the dying spirit of the powerful Englishman, and the coincidence took so firm a hold of the locality that up to a few years ago neither exhortation nor orders could prevent a Hindoo sentry at that gate from presenting arms to any cat that passed out at night.

Grandmotherly Government.

A traveler landed at a railway station in a country which for a good reason shall be nameless. His passport was found not to be in order owing to the absence of a certain vise.

"You cannot remain in the country," said the police official.

"Then I will go back again."

"Have you permission to leave the country?"

"No."

"In that case we can't let you go. We will give you 24 hours to decide."—Famille.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory."—For sale by all dealers.
